

Art on the Green is Saturday!

Saturday, September 14 (Arlington Town Day)

10 am - 4 pm in Whittemore Park

Sponsored by the John Mirak Foundation

Don't miss our annual art and author festival this Saturday during Arlington Town Day!
Mingle with local artisans and authors, enjoy live classical music, and experience
Dallin's art with free museum admission and family art hunts.

Featured Artisans:

Anne Black (Capriccio Arts) - photography, cards and jewelry

Laurie Bogdan - jewelry

Peg Casey - clothing

Anita Costello - Bacah Design

Susan Devita - tie dye clothing

Rita Dioguardi - collage art

Jen Flores - Hardy Elementary after-school crafts

Maggie Furtak - ceramics

Ariel Kessler - mixed media art/collages

Nina Lapchyk - textiles

Julia Ledoux - metal jewelry

Chikako Mukai - handbags, clothing, accessories

Helen Ray (Pleasant Moments by HFR) - soaps

Ruth Ann Weinstein - handmade knits

Nancy White - photo cards

Susan Wing - ceramics

Ruth Youngblood - notecards

Book Signings Hosted by Dick Haley Booksellers:

- 10-11 am - John Harrison, "Dead in Good Company: A Celebration of Mt. Auburn Cemetery"
- 12:30-1 pm - Jane Healey, "The Beantown Girls" & Arlington author Whitney Scharer, "The Age of Light"
- 1-2 pm - Investigative reporter and award-winning mystery writer Hank Phillippi Ryan, "The Murder List"
- 2-2:30 pm - WZLX's Carter Allen, "The Decibel Diaries: A Journey through Rock in 50 Concerts"

Musical Performance by the Elliot Wind Ensemble, 10-12 pm

Robin Henzer has been coordinating the woodwind ensemble with Art on the Green for more than 10 years!

Free parking is available in the lot behind the Dallin Museum. The Museum will be open free of charge from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Questions about this event? Contact us at 781-641-0747 or info@dallin.org.
